

Synthesis 5.2

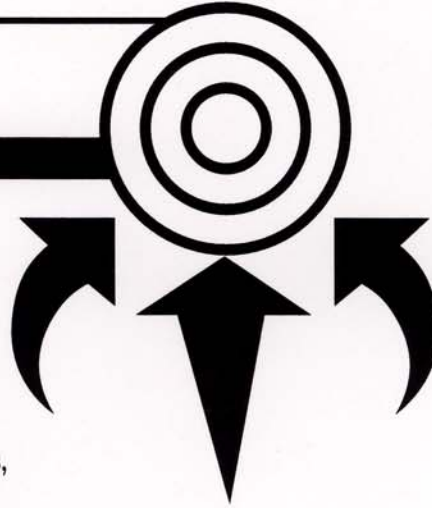

Present Information

Key Question:

How should I present my information?

Story Planner

Use this story planner when you write a narrative fiction story or when you gather information from a fiction story. Think about the different story elements, including theme or message, characters, setting, problem/goal, sequence of events, and resolution. Then record the important information below.

In Synthesis 5.2, determine how you are going to repackage the information into the appropriate product.
